the racing dates for the coming season would come up for discussion. They were greeted smilingly by Assistant Secretary Algernon Daingerfield and informed that an enterprising newspaper had arranged the meeting, but that officially there was the prospect for the ensuing season except that if the applications made by the Maryland tracks for spring meetings are granted there is no likelihood of the spo beginning on the New York tracks until Saturday. May 22. Even this will be earlier than the opening day last year.

when the Westchester Racing Association programme was started on May 26. Maryland racing cannot begin until April 1 and the Bowie track has applied for dates from April 1 to 17 inclusive. Pimin commission at Aqueduct, and there is some talk of reverting to the old order, now that Aqueduct has been reestab-lished as a racing centre. Jamaica, which had to split its dates among the other local associations last year because of the destruction of the grand stand, may be in line again. It is considered improbable, however, that the Metropolitan Jockey Club will spend the money necessary to put the plant in condition, so that the meeting, if held, will have to precede or follow the Westchester meeting at Belmont Park.

One thing is assured: that when once the super begins there will be regime.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 28 .- J. D. E.

Jones, the Rhode Island champion, and C. M. Buli, Jr., of the West Side Tennis Club of New York will fight to ut in the final round for the trophy in the tennis tournament here. Bull put McKinney out of the running rather easily, 6-3, 6-3, but Jones found Irving C. Wright, brother of the famous Beas Wright, a tenacious opponent. After Jones took the first set easily at 6—1, the second was a brilliant battle, which held the atter tion of a big sallery. Jones winning, 9-7 In doubles both pairs of Canadians were eliminated, Bull and Wright defeating Hall and Goldstein by 6-0, 6-2, and Jones and McKinney disposing of Goldstein and Dineen by 6-2, 6-1. In mixed doubles Mr. Bull and Mrs. Hinchcliffe de feated Mr. Otis and Miss Barbara Farrington, 6-3, 6-3; Mr. Ingraham and Miss Treat won from Mr. Weller and Mrs. A. C. Aborn by 6-4, 6-1, and Mr. McKinney and Miss Helen Barnet defeated Mr. Case and Miss Marjoric Hooker by 6-3, 6-2.
